Reason for Amendment

In consideration of technological advances made with respect to relevant loading systems, new installation rules named the “Rules and Guidance for Centralized Cargo Monitoring and Control Systems” have been established in order to achieve safer and more reliable cargo loading.

In relation to the establishment of these new rules, it was necessary to amend all relevant regulations and guidance so that new installation characters could be issued under such requirements.

Accordingly, all relevant requirements have been amended in relation to the newly established Rules and Guidance for Centralized Cargo Monitoring and Control Systems.

Outline of Amendment

Relevant provisions related to the issuance of the new installation characters “CCM” for ships complying with the Rules and Guidance for Centralized Cargo Monitoring and Control Systems have been specified in the Regulations and Guidance for the Classification and Registry of Ships.
