

Application Forms for the Approval and Type Approval of Materials and Equipment for Marine Use

Amended Guidance

Guidance for the Approval and Type Approval of Materials and Equipment for Marine Use

Reason for Amendment

Example application forms for approval and type approval of products are provided in the Guidance for the Approval and Type Approval of Materials and Equipment for Marine Use. In addition, online (editable) versions of each of these application forms are also available on the ClassNK website for to make the application process more user-friendly. In some cases, however, inconsistencies exist between the information required by the printed and online versions even though they both pertain to the same matter.

Accordingly, relevant requirements were amended to delete examples of application forms listed in the Guidance for the Approval and Type Approval of Materials and Equipment for Marine Use and added references to the online versions of the forms available on the ClassNK website so as to avoid any confusion regarding the application process.

Outline of Amendment

Deleted the example application forms listed in the Guidance for the Approval and Type Approval of Materials and Equipment for Marine Use and added the application form numbers used for the online versions of the same forms found on the ClassNK website.
